

Retro:

Sprint2 came around for our group quicker than we have expected. However, we still got the majority of work done as required. Also, we need better communication methods within the group to best contact each other. All in all, our group is heading the right direction and completing all necessary tasks.